PLEASE NOTE:

- No minimum or maximum number of nights are required although for a full experience, a minimum stay of 3 nights is recommended.
- Elephant activities are offered daily.
- At Abu Camp a maximum of 10 guests can be accommodated on an elephant activity at any one given time. If one of the elephants is pregnant or nursing a young one, this number may need to be adjusted on the day.
- Abu Camp does not have a family room.

- Children between the ages of 6 and 16 years can be accommodated as a triple share in a standard twin room on an extra bed (maximum 2 extra beds available for this purpose at any one time). This may impact on space and comfort.
- Child rates will apply when the child is sharing with adults in the triple room, however the range of activities is limited as a result of the minimum age requirement of 13 years for the following activities: mokoro excursions and walks (game walks or walking with the elephants).
- Children between the ages of 6 and 16 years may participate in a sleep out on the outdoor Star Deck provided they are accompanied by an adult.
- Elephant excursions cannot be booked on a private basis and as such all parties, including those with children between 6 and 16 years, share in these activities at the same time. Where possible the camp will allocate and roster activities in such a way that families with children between 6 and 16 years are accommodated sole use on game drive and boating activities.
- When booking sole use of Abu Camp the minimum camp age restriction falls away, however activity minimum age requirements remain in place for safety reasons.
